

KRISTIN BEGLEY, PHARM.D.
Vice President & Founder
TruVeris, Inc.

Dr. Begley is responsible for developing and implementing strategic programs for pharmacy benefit management. Prior to TruVeris, Kristin led Hewitt's National Pharmacy Practice where she designed key strategic initiatives in pharmacy benefit management for FORTUNE 500 employers. She consulted on a wide variety of pharmacy benefits issues with particular emphasis on financial management, evidence based benefit strategy and design, biotech/pharmacogenomics, and vendor evaluation.

Kristin's experiences include clinical and analytical roles in inpatient and outpatient settings, managed care areas, and consulting. She also completed a residency in managed care affording her the opportunity to work with Alabama Medicaid and The Oath (HMO). Prior to that, Kristin researched, summarized and wrote Web postings on current events in managed care with a strong health economics and drug therapy management focus for drugfacts.com. These roles allowed her to identify areas of opportunity for cost containment and improved member services. Kristin earned her Doctorate in Pharmacy from McWhorter School of Pharmacy at Samford University in Birmingham, AL.
